HOCKEY ON HARBOR
EAST BOSTON—Hockey on Boston Harbor, made possible by the cold spell, is being played by the boys and girls of the Jeffries Point section here. Not since 1918 did the residents of the district recall harbor ice being safe enough even to walk on.

LINCOLN SHOT!
NUTLEY, N. J.—Bernard Stengren bought a plant in a downtown New York store. Protecting the flower was a newspaper which Stengren started to read when he reached home. He saw in black headlines—"Death of the President."

The paper was an extra of the old New York Herald, dated April 15, 1865, reporting the assassination of President Lincoln.

STOVE CAUSES $1500 FIRE
READING — An overheated stove caused a $1500 fire in the Boston and Maine station here. The fire was discovered by Ticket Agent Robert O. Chesley. It swept up between the partitions of the men's waiting room and the women's waiting room and threatened for a time the baggage room. It was the second fire in three years at the station.

Royalists Lost Opportunity

Duc de Guise

Leon Daudet

Charles Maurras

The crown of France that rests upon a satin cushion in the Louvre might today be resting on the brow of the Duc de Guise, did he possess the red-blooded audacity of his forebears. So say keen observers of the situation in Paris. While a howling mob, infuriated at the government, was frantically seeking a leader, the Duke failed to grasp his opportunity. He remained far from the scene of turmoil in his castle of Anjou, near Brussels, Belgium. Meanwhile his henchmen, Leon Daudet, leader of the French Royalist Party, and Charles Maurras, director of the newspaper, L'Action Francaise, had called for the overthrow of the Republic. Maurras is now under arrest, charged with incitement to murder. The Duke's rival claimant to the phantom throne is Prince Louis Napoleon, who also remained in exile in Brussels, while he might have made a gamble for the crown.

Arleast Club Headquarters Scene of Fire

A still alarm was sounded yesterday afternoon at 2.43 for what looked like a fire in a store, which is being used by the Arleast club of Arlington, as a clubroom. A stovepipe fell while the members were attempting to build a fire in the cellar. The smoke filled the building, and a tenant of another store, hurriedly called the Fire Department. The firemen responded immediately to the call to 344 Mass. ave, but found they were not needed. Recall was sounded at 2.51.

Want Game With Arlington Team

The Malden Maccabees issued a challenge, to any team in Arlington, of boys interested in basketball, about the age of 16 or 17 years. They will play at home or away. For any information write Hawkie Weiner, 52 Magnolia st. Malden, Mass.

Local Boy Wins Prize Bicycle

Edward Sabagian of 37 Fountain rd won the grand prize of a boy's bicycle in a contest which lasted 2 months at a local drug store.

During the contest he won two other prizes. He sold merchandise after school gaining creditable points, a factor which aided his victory. He goes to the ninth grade of the Junior High West and is a very ambitious worker.

Local Schools Closed, Due To Extreme Cold

Due to the extreme cold temperatures so prevalent in the country, the Public Schools of Arlington were closed all day yesterday, as well as in surrounding towns. The fire whistles blew at 7.15 for the morning sessions, and again at 12.30 for the afternoon sessions. Station WNAC also broadcast the No School signal. It was the first time this year, that the Public Schools have been closed down, as a result of inclement weather.

Local Girl Scout Gets High Rate

Arlington Girl Scout Council has received the distinction of being second in the State in achievement, according to a recent communication from Miss Helen F. Potter, State Director by Mrs. James W. Kidder, commissioner.

The achievement record is based on the number of Girl Scouts in proportion to population, the number who reregister, the increase in number of new members, advancement in Scout rank of each Scout, the length of time which girls remain Scouts and advancement made in general Scout activity. A report of the Arlington Council is made annually to the National Headquarters by Mrs. Grace E. Towne, director.

HERO POLICEMAN AGAIN STOPS RUNAWAY HORSE

Patrolman James Coughlin again took over the hero role, when he stopped a runaway horse on Marathon st, about nine o'clock yesterday morning. Officer Coughlin was seriously hurt a few years ago, when he saved a number of people, from serious injury and possible death by leaping for the head of a runaway horse, and pulling him in before he ploughed into a number of people who were walking across the street near the Capitol Theatre.

The horse and wagon owned by the Hathaway's Bakery company broke loose in Cambridge, and ran wild up to Marathon st which street it turned into. In turning it struck a Ford coupe owned by Jane Baumeister of 29 Cleveland st. The car was operated by Thomas R. O'Connor of 4 Tyndale rd, Roslindale. O'Connor was backing out of a driveway at the time, in the car, which was badly damaged in the rear by the wagon. Officer Coughlin then gained control of the frightened animal and quieted it.

NEWS OF THE LOCAL GIRL SCOUT TROOPS

This column is anxious to hear from every troop in the council. Naturally, headquarters, council members and members of troops are interested in what the troops are doing. If your troop is having some special event or interesting project or anything at all out of the ordinary, every other troop would like to hear about it.

Of course, the only way to keep the troop news travelling and the only way to have your troop share in the glory that comes with accomplishment is to let the others know about it. What better way to tell them than through your own news column? It is at your disposal and you have to do is drop a line to headquarters and there it is, practically in print.

What are you doing? What have you done? What do you plan to do? We'll know just as soon as you tell us, but nobody will know if you keep it to yourself.

February 8 to 14 is Boy Scout Week all over the country. We wish them the best of everything for the coming year and many of the Girl Scouts will "be listening in" today when President Roosevelt will address the Boy Scouts of the Nation and will issue a "call to service."

The Junior Garden Club extends an invitation to Arlington Girl Scouts to attend two interesting programs in the Robbins Library Hall at 4 o'clock.

The first was held yesterday, "Our Wild Flowers" an illustrated talk by Miss Juliet Richardson. The second comes on Friday, Feb. 23, "Our Ant Army" by Mrs. Elsie Sherwood.

The Educational Department of the Arlington Woman's Club, through the Conservation chairman, Mrs. LeRoy Shaw, is sponsoring an interesting contest among the Arlington Girl Scouts, on conservation.

A prize of five dollars worth of Girl Scout equipment is offered to Girl Scouts in Junior High schools and a prize of two dollars and half's worth of equipment for the winning Scout from the grade schools.

The requirements for the contest call for a 700 to 1000 word paper on "Conservation of Our Natural Resources." The contest closes March 24 and papers must be in the hands of the judges by midnight of March 23rd.

Mrs. Shaw, captain of troop 2, will visit the troops throughout the town to discuss and explain the subject chosen; there will also be a general talk for all entrants one afternoon during the February vacation, the exact date to be announced later.

Twelve Girl Scouts from troop 2 will assist the Boy Scouts of troop 1 in a play to be given for the benefit of troop 1 Boy Scouts. All registration fees for troop 2 must be in next troop meeting. Patrol 4, Betty Moore, leader, won the competition to have 100 per cent registration first. Ruth Bullock, a student at Jackson college and instructor in troop 2 for the past 2 years, will transfer her senior scout membership in troop 6 to first lieutenant in troop 2. Lieutenant Bullock received her Golden Eaglet award a year ago.

Troop 3 has elected new officers. The patrol leaders are Jeannette Briggs, and Claire Colman with Marian Fillmore and Ann Horrigan as aides.

Margaret Highland was elected troop reporter. A new candidate entered, Cleo Bargstrom and Louise Geary transferred from troop 2.

Candy bars are being sold by the troop members to aid the slim treasury.

A Valentine Party has been planned by troop 5 for their next troop meeting which will be held at Captain Bailey's home. Child Nurse and Nature badges are in progress and the athletes have completed their course.

Troop 6 has completed the requirements for the Junior Citizen Badge which is one of the seventeen required badges for the Golden Eaglet. The badge covers in detail government of country and town, departments of government and local laws.

Regular classes, games and songs comprised the fifteenth meeting of troop 7 this week.

Troop 10 will hold the regular troop meetings in the Baptist church parish house during the next few weeks until the Old town hall is available.

Late news: Helen Hamilton conducted the opening exercises for troop 1 Monday. Betty Mahoney, Betty Heeney and Phyllis Healy were invested.

The signalling class enjoyed working with the buzzer provided by Louise Lester who is instructing.

LOCAL GIRL SCOUTS SET CAMPING RECORD

There is a silver lining to the depression and Mrs. Walter N. Rothschild knows where it can be seen. Mrs. Rothschild is chairman of the National camp committee of the Girl Scouts, and has a heartening report to make on the achievements of the year just ended.

"The once over-privileged children of this country," says Mrs. Rothschild, "are learning the pleasures of simple outdoor play, and the under-privileged have discovered that, however hard times may be, there are still fresh air, sun and the charm of the countryside to be enjoyed."

Girl Scout camps this past summer were used by over eleven thousand more girls than ever before in the history of the organization. That means that over sixty thousand girls spent all or part of their vacation in the open having a good time under wise guidance.

"It wasn't always easy for them to have two weeks," said Mrs. Rothschild. "In one Vermont town the most the girls could muster in the way of cash was one dollar each, but, by apportioning the food supplies between them, drawing on home gardens and the generosity of family, friends and neighbors, they managed."

But vacationing over a period of weeks is only part of the Girl Scout outdoor program. Troops also go on overnight or weekend hikes or have day camps, to which they go each morning. Nearly all Girl Scouts and their number runs into the hundreds of thousands, have camping in this form at least, and they have it not only in summer but all-year-round.

"The all-year-round program is bigger than ever this winter," Mrs. Rothschild said. "Not only will the girls go to our camps but they will go where they, hike through the woods and country, provided their leaders are sufficiently experienced to take full responsibility. In the more congested centers, where there is no chance for the parents to know the leaders personally, we like to have our leaders licensed. That means they must not only be able and reliable and trained in all our requirements, but must also be accustomed to exercising the kind of supervision necessary on such impromptu outings."

Arlington reports for the past year a total of over two hundred Girl Scouts in camps during the year. This is a tremendous increase over 1932 and 1933 shows a tendency to increase the 1933 figures. Already eighty-nine different girls have attended winter day camping at Cedar Hill since January 1. Approximately one hundred and fifty girls spent more than one session at winter and summer day camps in 1933 while over fifty girls were in permanent camps for two or more weeks. These figures do not include girls who attended private, church or family camps.

Seven leaders and council members attended a Two-week National Training course in a national training camp and twenty were on camp staffs during the summer.

The local camping committee, headed by Mrs. Harold Yeames, will make special efforts this year to have every Girl Scout in the council have camping experience.

Eastman Is Speaker At Local C. of C.

The largest meeting the Chamber of Commerce has ever held took place at Wyman's English tavern last Tuesday evening when Joel W. Eastman was the guest speaker. He spoke on "The Job of the Chamber of Commerce." Mrs. Harold B. Wood, president of the Woman's club was an invited guest. David A. Wilcox presided and turned over the meeting to William Platine, chairman of the commercial division while announcements of special interest to merchants were made. Prizes for the best-decorated store windows during the Christmas season were awarded. Mrs. LeBaron of LeBaron's Electric Shop received the first prize of $10; Gahm & Erickson were given second place and received a $5 prize; William Whowell was given third prize of $3.

The resignation of Robert Patterson was regretfully accepted and the name of Manager Taylor, new head of the Arlington Gas Light company was submitted for membership. Arthur Birch speaking on the resignation of Mr. Patterson was loud in his praise of the latter and pointed out that he would be really missed in Arlington. Rev. R. R. Hadley gave the invocation.

The following names were submitted for membership: Paul A. Ziegler, 40 Warren st; Dr. Kenneth S. Ellis, 220 Massachusetts ave; George M. Dolan, 203 Mystic st; Daniel J. Caniff, 27 Highland ave; John J. Sullivan, 39 Webster st; and Albert E. Hughes, 259 Pleasant st.

Senate Votes For Deposit Insurance

The bill providing for insurance of deposits in savings banks was passed to be engrossed by the Massachusetts Senate yesterday and the Committee on Banks and Banking reported a bill for insurance for holders of shares of cooperative banks.

Senator Parkman of Boston opposed the savings bank measure and said there was no necessity for it. He argued that the method to employ was to require banks to use a sound system. He felt such a bill was wrong in principle and would work out badly in practice.

In urging the bill Senator Cotton of Lexington called attention to the protection given trust company depositors under Federal legislation and said the savings banks for their own protection want insurance. He said the law would run only three years.

Senator Warren of Arlington said the bill was wrong in principle, but that the banks were forced to accept it, "otherwise the dictator in Washington would require them not only to join a State but Federal system as well."

"Spread Sunshine and Safety"

Daddy Sunshine Club Rules

1. Be kind and helpful to others.
2. Look both ways when crossing streets.
3. Always be kind to dumb animals.
4. Write a letter to Daddy Sunshine, or have Mother or Dad write it for you, every now and then.
5. Try to bring a "Ray of Sunshine" into the lives of your parents and others every day of the week and every week of the year.

These rules are not very difficult for good girls and boys to keep. Most of them are kept by them anyway.

Mail your letters and stories to Daddy Sunshine, in care of this paper. He will answer them in the Daddy Sunshine column.

Write on but one side of the paper, and place your age and address on the letter after your name. Give the day, month and year of your birth.

To join the club all you have to do is promise to keep the rules—and keep them.

THE THINKER (Aged 8)

Last night I heard my mother say
To father, in the hall:
"Our John is such a thoughtless boy,
He never thinks at all."

Sometimes I wish, I do, sure
Mike,
My thoughts would always shine
Right out upon my forehead, like
A big electric sign.

Or else I wish my brain would buzz
Like Deacon Sawyer's mill;
She thinks it doesn't work because
It keeps so awful still.

And when you think and think a lot
It's terrible to know
No matter how you think a thought
Your thought will never show.
—Mortimer Jones.

AN OLD FRIEND WRITES AGAIN

Dear Daddy Sunshine:
I have not written for a long time, so I am writing now.

I am sending a few problems.
1. There is one question to which you must always answer yes if you answer is right. What is the question?

2. Which is heavier, an ounce of gold or an ounce of feathers asked

Bobby. An ounce of gold of course, answered his sister. But a pound of feathers is heavier than a pound of gold said Bobby. Was he right?

3. Harry, aged 12, is promised a bicycle when he is one third the age of his father, who is 56 years old. When will Harry get the bicycle?

That is all I have now.

Here is a Riddle in Rhyme:
I am, as you'll agree with me
The funniest thing in land or sea
My mouth is bigger than my head,
I always stay within my bed
Yet funnier still, I often rise
Now answer that, you solvers wise
Yet though in bed I always stop
You'll see me racing neck and crop
In fact, I'm very rarely still
This condition answer me
Through the valley, down the hill
This funniest thing in land or sea.
Lillian Adler

Thanks Lillian for an interesting and nicely written letter. Daddy Sunshine was more than glad to hear from you again. The riddles were most welcome and no doubt some of the members will be able to answer them. Hope to see you and Marshall at the big party on Washington's Birthday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, at the Medford Women's club.

IS A REAL SUNSHINER

Dear Daddy Sunshine:

I would very much like to become a member of your club. Many Girls I know belong and they say it is a great club. I am 12 years old and I try to spread a lot of Sunshine and find your rules easy to keep. I help my mother all I can. I like to work around the house and run the errands. I like to play too and have plenty of it. Mother says all children should play, and all children should have something to take care of at home, so that they will grow up feeling that they are responsible for something. I believe most girls like to feel responsible, don't you? Please put my letter in the column and please let me know if I am a member. I will be at the party on Washington's birthday with two of my chums who are members.

Mary Louise O'Brien
Welcome Mary. You have already been spreading Sunshine a long time and Daddy Sunshine is more than happy to include you in his membership. Keep up your good work at home. Yes, every child should have some responsibility. All humans are better off if they feel they are of some importance in life. The feeling of responsibility grows and a child who is used to having something in charge of, will, when a big responsibility is placed on her shoulders, be able to properly take care of it. Will be happy to greet you on Feb. 22nd at the Medford Women's club on Governors ave. You may invite as many friends as you like.

AMATEUR BASKET-BALL LEAGUE GAMES

By BOB FOREST

The Arlington Amateur basketball League continues on its successful path, and with the announcement by Joe Bevins that the League would continue until March 15 the players settled down to real work. The transposition of teams into both leagues is not only going to give the fans some better games, (if that is possible), but will also create a greater spirit of competition in the participants. The Cardinals who have swept through the Junior Division without a defeat and are now playing senior division clubs while the Arleast club has been shifted to the Junior Division. The Cardinals and Pals game should be one of the star games of the League. The schedule for the remainder of the year follows:

Feb. 12, Monday—Junior A. A. vs. Fab Juniors; Cardinals vs. Pirates; Pals vs. Arleast.

Feb. 15, Thursday—Ramblers vs. Gaunaris; Bears vs. Skeletons; Cardinals vs. Arleast.

Feb. 19, Monday—Pirates vs. Fab Juniors; Junior A. A. vs. Bears; Senior A. A. vs. Fab Seniors.

Feb. 22, Thursday—Bears vs. Pirates; Arlest vs. Skeletons; Cardinals vs. Pals.

Feb. 26, Monday—Gounaris vs. Fab Juniors; Ramblers vs. Junior A. A.; Senior A. A. vs. Arleast.

Mar. 1, Thursday—Pirates vs. Ramblers; Skeletons vs. Fab Juniors; Fab Seniors vs. Cardinals.

Mar. 6, Tuesday—Bears vs.

Arleast; Gounaris vs. Junior A. A.; Fab Seniors vs. Pals.

The opposition for the Skeletons failed to show up so Joe Bevins picked an all star team known as the Rinky Dinks. Georgie Lowder as the ace man of the team was too much for the Skeletons and his passing to Forest and Pears accounted for most of the points. Pearse broke a front tooth in a collision with Mike Lionetta for the only serious accident of the night.

The game was rather rough at the opening but opened up as it progressed.

The Fab Seniors had little trouble belating the Arleast club with their star Hal Davidson missing. The club that gave the Senior A. A. such a battle the week before failed to show any of that form. The rangy Fab team clicked their plays beautifully to score the majority of their points. Sharpshooter Joe Murphy accounted for the Arleast Club's points.

Games Next Monday

Two good games are promised Monday night when the Amateur Basketball League plays its regularly scheduled games at the Junior High East. The games start at 7.30 and are played every Monday and Thursday night. A small charge is made for admission and three games are played under Official Board rules. The Pals and the Arleast Club game will be the feature with the Cardinals and Pirates supplying the fireworks. Both games will be full of life and hard clean playing and will be worth watching.

Games Monday night are:
Junior A. A. vs. Fab Juniors
Cardinals vs. Pirates
Pals vs. Arleast

Games Thursday night will be:

ROOSEVELT'S MYSTERY MESSAGE

Saturday, at noon, there will come a moment of keen interest to more than a million American boys. President Roosevelt will deliver a special address, by radio, to Boy Scouts the nation over. Boys in Boston and boys in Butte, in Galveston and Pasadena—in every city and in nearly every town of the land,—will be listening, you may be sure, to each word the head of the nation then speaks. What will the President say to this eager audience? The answer is secret, a mystery almost greater than the contents of a presidential message to Congress on some matter of world-wide importance. All that is known of Saturday's speech is that the President will then assign to the Boy Scouts of America a specific service which they may do for the nation in its continuing time of emergency. But what that service will be no one knows, or can even guess, until Franklin Roosevelt takes the boys themselves into his confidence.

The plans of publicity are many, but some of them are good. This one seems to us excellent—a sincere and well-conceived undertaking which will be helpful to 1,300,000 Boy Scouts and helpful to the American nation. The President will reach the hearts and thoughts of his young hearers in a close and intimate way. Mr. Roosevelt's great powers of human expression can be relied on for that. As the boys learn what particular aid he has to ask of them, their attention will be acute. Their response, we predict, will make us all sit up and take notice.—Boston Transcript.

IMAGINATION

Napoleon once said "Imagination rules the world." Imagination is the putting of thing together in the mind; it can surround an object with its probable or possible environment; it has range and intensity. The imaginative man sends his thought through all the instincts, passion and prejudices of men; he knows their desires and their regrets.

Have you contributed one idea that increased the sales of your concern during the past year? Have you submitted a plan that would enable your firm to save any part of its operating costs?

If you have done nothing of this sort you probably are being paid all you are worth and are putting the load entirely upon your manager, and if he knew how little capable of progress you are he would change you for some one of greater promise. We don't mean you are inferior to thousands of other young men, but you are simply a dead weight on the head of the man that must solve these problems.

SYMME'S SWAMPS RIDGEWOOD

Wednesday evening the Symmes School Polo Team played host to the Ridgewood Polo Club, of Worcester, and sent the boys home in the bitter cold with a defeat of 21 to 6. Ridgewood was represented by the Hutchinsons, father and son, with Arthur Scott alternating as substitute. Cliff Miller and Ralph Symmes made up the local aggregation.

Miller featured the evening's play with 12 goals while Symmes made the other nine. Hutchinson, Jr., made four of the goals for Ridgewood while Scott accounted for the other two. The visitors were seriously handicapped by ponies with which they were unfamiliar.

The second game of the evening was of the usual exhibition nature with Towers and Leo Boyle paired against Tom Sullivan and Wesley Dennis. In this game, won by Tower and Boyle, the play was again one sided with a final score of 19 to 4. Boyle featured the scoring with fourteen goals with his partner accounting for five. Both Sullivan and Dennis each scored two goals.

The summary:
Symmes School (21)
Ridgewood (6)

Cliff Miller, No. 1

Ralph Symmes, Back

Art Scott, Back
Score by chukkers:
Symmes School—3-4-4-3-4-3—21

ANSWERS INQUIRY

Sports Editor, Fred:
Replying to your inquiry of Wednesday, relative to how the half goal is scored in polo, I would say that the half point is not scored as a goal but as a penalty for a foul and is subtracted from the score or the last goal. While I never saw it happen, in a game where a side had made no goals throughout the entire game and did have one foul the final score would appear as whatever the victors made to—1-2

While on the subject I would like to suggest that you and Mrs. Bosworth avail yourself of either the Wednesday evening games at Symmes School or the Sunday afternoon games at Harry Good's and I feel sure you will find the game, truly the sport of kings.

With kind personal regards,
Wade S. Hervey, Hoss Editor

Income Tax In A Nutshell

WHO? Single persons who had net income of $1,000 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more, and married couples who had net income of $2,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more must file returns.

WHEN? The filing period begins January 1 and ends March 15, 1934.

WHERE? Collector of internal revenue for the district in which the person lives or has his principal place of business.

HOW? See instructions on forms 1040A and 1040.

WHAT? Four per cent normal tax on the first $4,000 in excess of the personal exemption and credits. Eight per cent normal tax on the balance of net income. Surtax on net income in excess of $6,000.

Income Tax Don'ts

DON'T prepare your return without first studying the instructions on the form.

DON'T procrastinate. Early assembling of data permits a careful consideration of all tax problems.

DON'T destroy the memoranda from which your return was prepared.

DON'T omit explanation when such information is essential to an intelligent audit. Attach memoranda to your return.

YOUR INCOME TAX

No. 5

NORMAL TAX, SURTAX RATES

The normal tax rate is 4 per cent on the first $4,000 of net income in excess of the personal exemption, credit for dependents, etc.; and 8 per cent on the remainder of such excess amount. The surtax rates—in computing which many taxpayers make mistakes, usually to their own disadvantage—begin on net incomes in excess of $6,000. The rates increase in accordance with the amount of net income included in varying so-called income-tax brackets. On a net income of $6,000 or less there is no surtax. On a net income in excess of $6,000 and not in excess of $10,000 the rate is 1 per cent of such excess. The surtax upon a net income of $10,000 is $40 and upon a net income in excess of $10,000, and not in excess of $12,000, the rate is 2 per cent in addition of such excess. The surtax on a net income of $1,000,000 is $491,460, and upon a net income in excess of $1,000,000, in addition 55 per cent of such excess, the maximum rate. Many taxpayers make the error of applying the maximum rate instead of the rate provided for in the bracket in which their net income is included.

Following is an example of how to compute the tax on a net income of $14,500, the taxpayer being single and without dependents:

Net income	$14,500
Less personal exemption	1,000
Balance taxable	13,500
4 per cent normal tax on first $4,000	160
8 per cent normal tax on balance of $9,500	760
Surtax of $140 on $14,000, plus 4 per cent on $500 in excess of that amount	160

Total, normal tax and surtax 1,080

The earned-income credit allowed individuals under the Revenue Act of 1928 is entirely omitted from the Revenue Act of 1932. Therefore, no earned income credit may be taken for the calendar year 1933. Taxpayers are advised to read carefully the instructions on form 1040 relating to the surtax, as well as all instructions thereon, before preparing their returns.

Grayce Thorson's Highlights

WELL, WELL, WELL, do you remember some of those radio rackets I mentioned in a previous column? I wonder just what those fellows think, just how their brains function? They should remember the old, but sensible saying, "You can fool some of the people all the time, and all the people some of the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time." Yes, sir, one of these fake "radio program producers" was recently caught and brought to court.

What's more, there was plenty of testimony. The racketeer had advertised in daily papers for "singers, dramatists, and other performers anxious to make good on the radio." He went through all the business-like routine of giving auditions and then recommended the would-be broadcasters to voice culture schools, photographers, or radio schools, for additional "polishing up and sales value." Many of the victims testified that his promises of jobs were exactly that—promises, and nothing more. After they might go to the trouble and expense of voice lessons or new photographs, no radio engagements were forthcoming.

When the pseudo radio program producer appeared in court, such ominous looks were cast his way that the judge deemed it wise to order two detectives to act as his escorts.

DOWNTOWN NEW YORK. down amid those great high buildings towering above Wall, Exchange, Nassau, and Liberty streets, structures and names that mean MONEY, one feels the power of it all. One of the most imposing edifices in the district is the Federal Reserve Bank at the corner of Liberty and Nassau streets. Outside and inside, the building is a procession of bars, bars, and bars. Barred windows, barred doors, barred counter inclosures—and bars of gold.

As I watched people exchanging their gold—$30, $50, $90—for currency, I was fascinated by the activity going on behind those barred sections. There were many neat white bags holding what my imagination pictured as gold bars, nuggets, or ingots, or whatever they are officially called. Then there were still larger sacks all nicely piled onto low trucks and being rolled away to some mysterious destination. Pieces of eight—gold—and more gold!

No public building, be it a prison guarding human beings or a museum protecting precious masterpieces, could possibly be as carefully watched as is this Federal Reserve Bank in downtown New York. Guards to the right of you, guards to the left of you, guards all around you, armed with their guns. As I stood watching, I could see guards—officers of the law—in every direction. Their revolvers, even though reposing peacefully in Sam Brown belt holsters, looked very threatening. I'd feel sorry for the unfortunate individual who might do the wrong thing in this well-armed banking institution! Even the elevator operators carried guns!

THE CHESTNUT VENDERS and the hot potato men move their trading counters here and there as they wish. Their movable "stores" are crudely made vehicles capable of carrying the stoves, smoke-stacks and all, an extra supply of fuel, as well as the more or less tempting wares; they are really cumbersome ovens on wheels and are trundled through the maze of traffic with little or no difficulty.

Things are evidently looking brighter for the hot potato man for he enlarged his business, has branched out, and expanded. The cold weather must have helped him and increased his sales of the tempting hot baked sweet potatoes. He still has his supply of the potatoes, but he has added another tasty morsel—the baked apple.

SIDE GLANCES. At one of those "grind" theatres on Broadway where the show is continuous, an amplified phonograph record in the box-office keeps pace with the grind within. As the Broadway crowds pass this little box-office window, they hear the loud strains of either "The Last Round-up" or "The Three Little Pigs." As they go their various ways, many pick up the catching tunes and proceed humming or singing the same melodies. . . . The LINDBERGH plane is proving to be the most popular attraction the Museum of Natural History has ever had. . . . Since prohibition was repealed, nothing attracts the New York sidewalk crowds more than the windows displaying whiskies, wines, and liquors. They stand and gaze, either familiarizing themselves with the various shapes of bottles and the pretty labels or just fascinated by it all. . . . The disgust of the little boy who was forbidden entrance to the Public Library until he removed his roller skates.

Did You Ever Stop To Think

That people are interested in reading the ads when their pockets are bulging with money to spend. They are intensely interested in reading the ads when what they spend must be carefully spent. Then they buy what they can afford and the ads tell them where to find the bargains.

When business is lagging is the time to spend more money for advertising. The business men who do so feel a depression much less than those who cut down expenses by cutting down their advertising.

To curtail advertising cuts down sales. Cutting down sales cuts down production. Cutting down production cuts down employment.

When employment is cut down it leaves a whole lot of people with no money to spend.

You should keep up your advertising so you can keep up your sales. It will increase production and that will increase employment.

With increased employment, people will have money to spend.

A Hit Above the Collar Line

By IRVIN S. COBB

SOME years ago there was a colored stagehand at the Colonial Theatre in Chicago who fancied himself a pugilist. He took lessons in sparring; he practiced shadow boxing until he could lick any shadow that ever lived. Presently he announced himself the all-weights champion of the Colonial Theatre.

A musical comedy came to play the Colonial. Included in its stage crew was a large, brawny person of Swedish antecedents who knew a thing or two about handling his fists.

The negro promptly challenged him for a fight and the stranger accepted the challenge. On the first Saturday night of the troupe's engagement a ring was fitted up back stage and here, after the performance the bout was staged before an audience consisting of the members of the company, the theatre staff and a few specially invited guests. For a joke, Jay Brady, the manager of the Colonial, acted as manager for the house entry. The leading comedian of the musical show sponsored the cause for the Swede.

Presently the referee called time. The two men advanced to the center of the ring. The darky led, feinted, tapped out daintily and deftly for an opening and then swung. The Swede started a haymaker from his knees. His padded fist whizzed upward through the air and as the darky ducked it landed on the side of his head with a terrific thump.

The negro landed on his back half way through the ropes. Even in this sudden and unforeseen catastrophe though, he did not lose his wits. "Mister Brady," he yelled, "claim a foul—claim a foul! Dat man hit me a deliberit brain blow!"

ONE HALF CENT GASOLINE PRICE INCREASE TODAY

An increase of one-half cent a gallon in the price of gasoline will become effective this morning, according to an announcement made by officials, of the major companies yesterday. Divisional depots in Boston, including those of the Colonial, Gulf, Beacon, Tydol, Standard and Penn companies received instructions yesterday to post notices of the increase in price in their sub-stations.

WOULD BAR WILD ANIMALS FROM ROADSIDE STANDS

Dr. Francis H. Rowley, president of the M. S. P. C. A., before the Legislative Committee on Mercantile Affairs yesterday favored a bill to prohibit the exhibition of wild animals at gasoline stations and roadside stands. He said the animals are frequently confined in such narrow quarters they suffer intensely. The care given them, he declared, is often inadequate, with the result that the beasts often die of starvation or exposure.

Dr. Rowley estimated there were approximately 30 or 40 such places in Massachusetts.

WANT NORTHERN ARTERY MADE STATE HIGHWAY

A bill to make the Northern Artery from Boston to Wellington Bridge a State highway under the Department of Public Works has been endorsed by Mayor Hagan and members of the Legislature from Somerville at a hearing before the Legislative Committee on Highways and Motor Vehicles.

The same officials favored a bill to construct an underpass or overpass at the Northern Artery and Washington st., Somerville, and another bill to widen the Artery over the tracks of the Boston & Maine and the Boston & Albany Railroads. None of the bills was opposed.

THEFTS OF WHALE'S HEAD

A new kind of theft presented itself to the police of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., when Manfred Burleigh, Jr., of Detroit, Mich., reported someone had decapitated his 2,000-pound killer whale which he brought to municipal docks. The giant monster of the deep occasioned so much public interest when Capt. Buck King brought the cetacean in that police were called to direct traffic. Interest continued although the black specimen of the sea was minus a head. Search as made by the police and the head found with a collector. Again during the day curio seekers cut off the caudal and dorsal fins. When the monster was towed out to sea again for "interment," Burleigh wondered whether land "sharks" had not done more harm to his prize than the school of sharks which attacked the whale after it as harpooned.

BAY STATE BARS ALL RABBITS FROM MAINE

Raymond J. Kenney, director of the State Division of Fisheries and Game, yesterday issued an order prohibiting the importation of hares and rabbits from Maine into Massachusetts. He took that step in order to prevent the possible spread of the fatal disease tularemia, commonly known as rabbit fever.

News of the death of a Maine trapper, New England's first victim of tularemia, reached Director Kenney Wednesday night and after a hurried conference with Commissioner George J. Stobie of Maine at the Sportsmen's Show in Boston, the director decided to revoke all permits which had been issued for the importation of hares and rabbits.

LARGEST IN SEVEN YEARS

WASHINGTON—The Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported that meat production under Federal inspection in 1933 was the largest in seven years.

Total of 13,945,000,000 pounds of dressed weight was more than 1,000,000,000 pounds greater than in 1932 and nearly 600,000,000 pounds more than the average for the last five years.

WHAT IS THIS DASHNAK PARTY?

"The Dashnak is a secret revolutionary organization," is the frantic cry heard in the numerous anti-Dashnak protest meetings in the United States. At this point the cry is stifled by the agitators with the hope that the less-thinking Armenian and the American, unacquainted with Armenian history, will gather from this implication that the Dashnaks are plotting against the United States Government, against United States institutions.

It seems curious that so many of the opponents of the Dashnak know so much concerning the aims, the existence, the activities, and are acquainted with the identity of the leaders, of a "secret society." Since these people have such an intimate knowledge of the Dashnak Society, it is not self-contradictory to yell, "Dashnak is a secret society"? Is it keeping its identity a secret when it secures permission from the United States Government to publish its official daily newspaper? Is it attempting to keep its existence secret when it keeps accounts and news files open to the inspection of the authorities at any time? Was it attempting to keep its identity a secret when in 1919 the Dashnak elected by popular ballot four representatives from the U. S. to the Paris Conference? Do the Dashnaks ride the country-side in hoods such as did the Ku Klux Klan? Obviously, then, the Dashnak is not a secret organization, and to call it so is merely to torture a perfectly good English word.

Is Dashnak a revolutionary organization? Yes, but to stop there is a deliberate attempt to twist an honorable purpose. Against whom is the Dashnak revolutionary, is the inevitable question next asked by a thinking person? Is it revolutionary as against the U. S. Government? Is it revolutionary as against France, England, Italy or Japan? This ridiculous insinuation by the opponents of the Dashnak is answered effectively by this question. Against whom then, is the Dashnak revolutionary? These agitators know the real answer, but to reveal it is to cloak the Dashnaks with the toga of true Armenian patriotism. To reveal it is to pin on the Dashnak banner the badge of honor. These insidious creatures dare not proclaim that it is against the barbarous Turk that the Dashnak is revolutionary; it is against all the oppressors of the Armenian people that the Dashnak is revolutionary. To deny this truth is to ignore historical facts. To deny that this activity is honorable is to repudiate the accomplishments of such an immortal figure as George Washington. The Father of this great Republic led Revolutionary forces in 1776. It was his revolutionary activity that threw off the British yoke; it was his revolutionary activity that made possible this great Republic. Do the opponents of the Dashnak sneer when they mention Washington? Then why do they sneer at the efforts of the Dashnak? He waged revolution against the oppressors of his people, and the Dashnak has and will wage revolution against the oppressors of its people. This is the whole truth and it reveals the insinuation by the opponents of the Dashnak, in its true light, a dastardly attempt to prevent the truth.

In fact, are not these heretics themselves waging revolution against the sovereignty of the State of New York and the U. S. Government? I quote from a news item of January 10, 1934: "A turbulent mob of men and women, shouting and screaming profanations and using whatever weapons fell into their hands such as canes and umbrellas, attempted to wrest away from the Police today the seven men held in the Archbishop Tourian case. In the melee which took place just outside the Homicide Court . . . the seven defendants showed by the bruises on their faces and bodies how near they came to a possible lynching." Does not this quotation show a revolutionary activity by the opponents of the Dashnak, against the sovereignty of the State of New York, an organized government in these U. S.? Is not this a riot against the institution of the U. S. Government, the Court House? Is not this a riot against the representatives of the Government, the Police? Shades of Sultan Hamid and Governor Rolph! Are these communistic agitators unaware of President Roosevelt's denunciation of the recent lynching in California and the subsequent condemnation by the Governor of that State? Are they unaware that the law of this country does not sanction lynching? Then is not their activity, in the face of these facts, a revolution against the laws and institutions of the United States?

The Dashnak respects the law of this country; it respects American traditions and sees in the early history of this country an example to follow, an accomplishment that spurs it on to a renewed effort to free the Armenian people. It sees in this early American history a cause, which by experience, it can appreciate and admire. It sees in this American Colonial history heroic figures dying for American independence; it sees now that these men did not die in vain. The Dashnak inspired by this history, vows that our massacred millions shall not have died in vain.

LOEW'S STATE

"Moulin Rouge," the romantic musical picture, starring Constance Bennett in her first appearance for Twentieth Century Pictures, is the current attraction at Loew's State Theatre.

The story is based on a French stage success and serves to introduce the illustrious star in her first dual role. For the first time also in her screen career she sings several songs written especially for her by Harry Warren and Al Dubin, who composed the hit songs in "42nd Street," "Gold Diggers of Broadway," and "Roman Scandals." Charley Chase in his latest Comedy riot, "Cracked Ice" heads the list of selected short subjects, which include an interesting Warner Brother's Travel Talk, "World Journey;" a Willie Whopper Metro Cartoon, latest issue of Hearst Metrophone News.

On the stage, the popular radio star Alice O'Leary returns with a new program of late song hits. She will be accompanied by Carl Moore.

For Sunday, the regular screen attractions will be augmented by five big acts of vaudeville with the State theatre orchestra under the direction of Arthur Geissler.

LOEW'S ORPHEUM

Acclaimed by critics and public as one of the most outstanding pictures of the current season, "Eskimo," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's epic of the Arctic, is having its first downtown screenings at popular prices at Loew's Orpheum theatre in conjunction with an all-star lineup of big time vaudeville.

Jessie Block and Eva Sully, two of Broadway's biggest favorites, headline the vaudeville show with their lavish musical comedy presentation featuring a startling array of dances and several tuneful song numbers. Next comes another brilliant musical presentation in

Babe Goes South

Still shaky from the effects of the influenza attack that laid him low for several weeks, Babe Ruth, baseball's one and only, entrains at New York, with Mrs. Ruth, for Florida, where he will soon go into training for his 21st season on the diamond. Babe recently celebrated his 40th birthday.

1934 Models In Annual Flowers

Grandmother's garden was largely made of old-fashioned annuals, with delightful names. Do you remember some of them? Kiss-me-over-the-garden-gate, snow-on-the-mountain, love-in-the-mist, names which were poems in themselves.

We still have these flowers, but grandmother might not recognize some of them, because of the vast improvements which have been made by the art of plant breeding. It sometimes seems as though there were a race among the plants to see which class shall produce the most beautiful flowers.

Perennial flowers have long had the advantage for a very apparent reason. They live for years, while annuals must complete their growth in a single season. Of course, a peony, which does not begin to blossom until it is three years old (from seed) should grow larger than a poppy, which is sown in April and must produce its largest bloom in three months or so. But does it? In favorable sections peony-flowered poppies have approached the peony so closely in size and beauty, it is beginning to be a question whether in another few years the poppies may not take the lead.

So the whole class of annual flowers is advancing, especially in size, variety of form and range of color, and each year they become more important in the garden display. They seem, indeed, to be gaining on the perennials, in spite of the advantage of longer life which the latter have always possessed.

Plant breeding is carried on among perennials just as much, and perhaps by a larger number of breeders; but the annuals have a great advantage here in the very point which is a handicap in their individual development. Every year there is a new generation of annuals, so that experimentation is speeded up. A check on last year's work is made each summer, and new experiments are prepared. With perennials it always takes two years, and sometimes three to five, before the merit of a hybrid seedling can be known, and further improvement upon it be attempted.

So look among the annuals this year for new colors, and new types, and try as many of the novelties as you have room for, in order to keep abreast of the great improvements which are being made by the plant breeders.

"Vogues of 1934" with a cast of talented young performers who have a variety of pleasant surprises. Barry, Breen and Wyler offer the acrobatic comedy dancing hokum that is proving so popular in vaudeville at the present time, with Don Galvan, "The Spanish Banjo Boy" in an instrumental offering and the "Continental Aerial Sensations," Stanley Brothers & Attree completing the bill.

SPORT TOPICS

By BOB FOREST

Eddie Collins will probably be at the dance Monday night at the Town Hall to be run by the Arlington Baseball Club, to help buy uniforms for the team. A worthy cause and there should be a large crowd.

The Arleast club ran a most successful dance last Friday night. This club seems to be quite popular as it has limited membership. That is something new for clubs in this town and we say more power to them.

Charlie Downes, physical director at the Arlington High School has been absent for the past week due to illness. We hope to see him back soon. His many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

The High School team journeyed to Exeter Academy Wednesday afternoon to play. They lost. Coach Ray Burke was in charge of the team as a result of Charlie Downes being ill.

The Arlington Amateur Basketball League was certainly plenty interesting the other night. One player lost a tooth, another was cut in the arm. Lauren Phinney had previously dislocated his thumb and there were one or two minor injuries but all in all the boys enjoyed the game as do the spectators.

The Senior A. A. of the town under Charles Crocco will probably enter the tournament at Plymouth this year for Semi-Pro clubs. There is a little matter of expenses as yet but we hear that Charlie intends to run a benefit game to cover that.

Sunday Sports may become an issue in the coming election. All we want to ask is one question

"What do you suppose young fellows do with themselves on Sunday afternoons?"

What would be more helpful for the morale of these young men than to be participating in some athletic events supervised by recognized authority, and given the permission of the citizens. Oh Well, think it over.

Which brings up another matter. We hear favorable reports on all sides about forming a club to be interested in athletics at the High School. We had an idea about limiting it to alumni who had received letters for athletic ability. But we find that the people most interested are those who were on the second squad and didn't receive letters.

So we are going to form an Alumni club for the promotion of athletics in Arlington from all the Alumni of the High School with no exceptions. If your interested let us know.

We attempted to get the High School interested but we haven't heard yet. They don't seem very enthusiastic, so we don't know. We suppose it is natural that organization of any sort is frowned upon in the Town of Arlington. They have been tried before and failed miserably. In fact anything to do with athletics has failed. But that was before. Now we have a few athletes voting. Well we'll see.

A part of Spy Pond has been cleared off and good skating is enjoyed by many. Hill's pond has been almost entirely cleared off thanks to George Higgins. Arlington has had more skating this year than any year for the past ten.
